

Replan City Life Platform

Empowers Connections, Knowledge,
Markets and Partnerships

www.replancity.eu

About the Platform

The Platform is an important and dynamic tool providing information about the products currently available on the market, the manufacturers and suppliers, as well as cooperation opportunities and assistance (including contact and geo-localization data), and other data useful to identify and implement and replicate best practices and works.

Map

The map highlights key projects or examples (e.g., civil constructions, infrastructures) across Europe, including relevant technical details. You can showcase your RTM projects to reach a broad audience of end users.

Marketplace

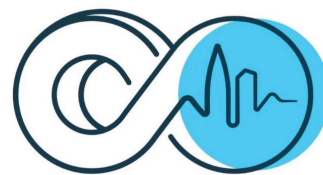

An online catalogue presents materials, products, and applications from tyre recycling already on the market. It enables easy research of products, suppliers and tender details. The dynamic Marketplace supports experience sharing, allowing end-users, manufacturers, and recyclers to connect via product databases and services for efficient information access.

Community

The Community welcomes those involved in the Recycled Tyre Materials (RTMs) value chain and willing to share experiences. A database lists key stakeholders such as public bodies, engineers, architects, designers, recyclers, suppliers, and end users. Join by registering on the platform and uploading your profile to connect, exchange information, and get support on finding and using RTMs.
